

Obliq Recordings Compilation (OBQ00)

The last couple of years have seen a veritable explosion in the American electronic music underground with artists and labels specializing in quirky, experimental techno popping up all over the place. Fueling this explosion is the Obliq Recordings Compilation featuring Multicast, Ted Sturgeon, freq modif, Finder (of Application Specific Records) and devslashnull (founder of Radiovalve.com internet radio).

The five Multicast tracks are melodic overtures featuring disjunctive beats that ride the cusp facing the dark side. "Hall of the Inverted Mushrooms" has charted in the top-25 (at #12) releases of 98 voted by Radiovalve.com listeners and its video can be seen on alternative video showcases worldwide. "Equivii" has been a favorite of DJs including UK's Leftfield.

freq modif exploits organic, analog sequenced soundscapes from different planets. Ted Sturgeon tracks are lush electronic surf music. Finder, founder of Application Specific Records (<http://apspec.com>), contributes crisp & melodic excursions into the digital domain. devslashnull (<http://radiovalve.com>) includes his remix of UK's Aquatic Ape's "Once Upon a Blip" masterpiece.

Perhaps Feedback Monitor (<http://www.feedbackmonitor.com>) sums up the compilation best in his review...

"I'll just say that if you're looking to hear some interesting and intelligent electronic music, this collection features some of the best of the post-Warp bunch."

The CD Compilation is a limited edition, hand silk-screened and numbered package and features glow-in-the-dark artwork.
